TWENTY CENTS

A tight squeeze

RAW MANPOWER combines with a ratcheted winch to move an 880-gallon boiler into the boiler room at Granite City High School last week with less than six inches clearance on either side. It was one of three units being installed to replace the boilers now in use. Each weighs more than 14,500 pounds. Energy usage and the cost of heating the campus will be significantly reduced.

Venice OKs bid on streets

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

VENICE — Proposed improvements to streets in Venice shortly will start with the awarding of a contract to Thiems Construction Co. of Edwardsville. The action was taken at Tuesday's City Council meeting. Aldermen also approved a 50-foot easement across the west end of the city-owned McKinley Toll Bridge to Union Electric Co.

THIEMS' $112,602 street improvement bid was the lowest of three proposals received by the city. Competing bids were submitted by C.D. Peters Co. of Granite City and G. McReynolds Co. of East St. Louis.

This project will be partially funded with a grant from the Madison County Community Development Agency.

ACCEPTANCE of the bid was recommended by the city's engineering consultant, Edward L. Juneau of Juneau and Associates.

The improvement will consist of work on College Street from Weaver Street to Line Alley and on Granville Street, west of Second Street.

Also included in the project are the north portion of Third Street and the intersection of Market and Meredonia streets.

Citizen involvement urged at crime seminar

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

"Crime prevention is everybody's business," the deep voice said. The words rumbled from a big, lovable face set with sad eyes and long, droopy ears.

"The name's McGruff, America's number one crime fighting dog," the widely recognized, trench-coated character said, introducing himself. McGruff was greeting nearly 200 representatives of law enforcement agencies and other organizations concerned with crime prevention.

The occasion was a recent Illinois Crime Prevention Seminar at the Collinsville Hilton.

Police chiefs Bill Harris of Granite City and Charles Bridick of Madison and Walter Milton, chairman of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce Crime Prevention Committee, were among those attending the day-long seminar.

SPONSORED by the Illinois Criminal Justice Information Authority, the program of workshops, panel discussions and speakers covered all aspects of crime prevention.

Participants were afforded first-hand information from a wide variety of sources to provide a better understanding of the benefits of crime prevention programs.

What people can do to prevent crime and what informational services are available from the Criminal Justice Information Authority were also stressed.

AN AWARDS presentation luncheon, with the SIUE Security Police Department among those honored for its achievements, was part of the day's activities.

Illinois Inspector General Jeremy Margolis, who has full statewide police powers and undertakes investigations and special projects upon orders from Gov. James H. Thompson, presented the Governor's Awards for outstanding crime prevention achievements.

Gary P. Maddox, director of the Missouri Department of Public Safety's Criminal Justice Programs, gave the keynote address.

Missing

- 133 children under 12
- 1,069, between 13-17
- 107, between 18-20

and welcoming remarks were offered by William Gould, Illinois Criminal Justice Information Authority chairman.

Among the panelists was Ron Ellis, assistant bureau chief of the Illinois State Police I-SEARCH (Illinois State Enforcement Agencies to Recover Children) program.

MISSING CHILD cases in Illinois, as of May 21, 1986, showed 133 children up to 12 years old are currently missing, 1,069 between 13 and 17 years old and 107 between 18 and 20 years old, it was related.

A total of 629 of the children had been missing more than 30 days, including 21 from Madison County.

Measures which parents can take to protect their children are part of the overall crime prevention program in Illinois.

TAKE A BITE OUT OF CRIME

Details may be obtained by calling 1-800-HELP-ME (if a child is missing) or 1-800-4-McGRUFF and local police departments for child safety information.

Sewer to be replaced

By Donna Kimbro
Staff writer

MADISON — A 12-inch sanitary sewer line in the alley between Market Street and Collinsville Avenue, west of Washington Avenue, will be replaced, Mayor John Bellico told council members last week.

Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab engineers, at the request of the mayor, inspected the site, involving 340 feet of sewer line, and recommended two options to repair the 60-year-old line.

John Hales of the engineering firm reported the clay sewer pipe had been exposed at various locations for inspection, and it was found to be in poor condition.

"I feel that any excavation adjacent to this sewer line will result in extensive damage to the existing sewer line due to its brittle condition," Hales said.

"The only way to thoroughly inspect the sewer without damaging it would be by means of television inspection from the inside of the sewer. Any defective joints in the sewer could be repaired at the same time as the TV inspection."

Hales estimated such an inspection and repair would cost the city at least $2,000.

The other option would be to accept an offer by Gerald Moss to excavate the sewer line area, replace 12-inch PVC sewer pipe, and backfill the trench.

The city would be responsible for purchasing the replacement pipe at a cost of $1,479 plus backfill materials estimated to cost $500. Installation of the pipe would be performed by city employees.

Council approval was given for Moss to proceed with the project as suggested by Hales.

A representative of South-Western Cable Co. will explain the site of the cable television company at the Sept. 23 council meeting.

A letter from an attorney for Mrs. Charles Rockett notified the council she is still asking for removal of a telephone pole from her property in West Madison. Bellico appointed Paul Ashford to serve as chairman of a committee to meet with an Illinois Power Co. representative and Larry Hartman, city attorney, to make arrangements to remove the pole.

Reviews and previews

Board discusses replacement

The District 9 Board of Education was expected to meet on Tuesday to discuss the replacement for the seat recently vacated by member Jerry McKeahan. The board took applications for the position last week and will have two more weeks to fill the seat. District residents from within and outside Granite City have expressed interest. McKeahan was a rural member of the board.

Fundraiser set for Sept. 14

Amvets Post 204 in Madison will hold its Fall Fun Day on Sunday, Sept. 14. All proceeds from the event will be used for service men and women. The day will feature a variety of entertainment including live music, children's games, clowns and magicians. The event will begin at 1 p.m. on the parking lot of the post home at 1711 Kennedy Drive in Madison.

Condominiums opposed

Plans by a local physician to build condominiums near the end of Villa Drive are meeting with neighborhood opposition. About 75 residents near the proposed site met last week to demonstrate their opposition to a proposed condominium development by Dr. A. Razaq. Concern about an increase in traffic and noise in the neighborhood was discussed. A meeting between the condominium contractor and residents is expected this Saturday.

Robbers escaped with $434.99 in a daring holdup of the beer distributing station of the Columbia Brewing Co. at 1413 Second St., Madison. But the two robbers failed to notice another $500 that employee Veronica Ryan threw into a shop window in her excitement when commanded to put her hands up.

Tell it like it is

Q: What do you think of the Granite City Council's plans to enact occupancy permit requirements in order to enforce building codes?

Debbie Valentine

"I definitely agree with their decision to enact occupancy permits because I think people will have better living and housing. I think something needs to be done (about rundown housing) and that is the only way you can do it." —Granite City

Roy Moore

"I'd say it sounds like a pretty good idea. They (landlords) let these buildings run down and turn into slums." —Granite City

NEXT WEEK: What should the District 9 school system do with all the vacant school buildings?

To record your answer, phone 452-0222 between 5:30 p.m. and 8 a.m. daily. Leave your name, hometown and phone number for verification purposes.

Quote of the week

"I would like to see someone who is independent, not politically connected, just Joe Citizen," said District 9 Board of Education member Jolene Terrell about the selection of another board member to replace Jerry McKeahan.

Tip of the hat

Peggy Cohen

Granite City resident Peggy Cohen has won the title "Champion Frog Racer" for her dazzling frog training abilities exhibited at a frog race in Branson, Mo. Cohen's bullfrog was one frog leg up on its nearest competitor when it won "The Shepherd of the Hills" race at Old Matt's Mill in Branson. The chief Shepherd of the Hills frog trainer signed a certificate that read: "Peggy used her know-how and get-up-and-go and made it look as easy as fallin' off a log backwards."

Thumbthing wrong with thumb suckers?

Generations of parents have sought to stop their babies from sucking their thumbs, but should they?

Thumb sucking may begin in the womb. Many babies are born with calluses on their thumbs. Parents have sought to halt the practice in younger children with thumb bandages, splints, bitter potions smeared on thumbs, even boxing gloves tied on at night.

But The Wall Street Journal surprised itself recently when its survey of dentists, orthodontists and psychotherapists revealed that thumb sucking is an ongoing problem among adults.

As a source of solace by day and as a sedative at night, many American grown-ups suck their thumbs.

Nobody presumes to guessimate numbers with any degree of accuracy, but a Fullerton, Calif., dentist has 400 patients who are thumb suckers. One New York psychoanalyst, Dr. Eleanor Galenson, reports her patients include a bank executive and a college professor, and "thumb-sucking is very common among stockbrokers."

A Houston psychologist told the Journal a prominent lawyer in that city sucks his thumb when courtroom proceedings get tense.

Often the thumb-sucker will hide

Paul Harvey News

By Paul Harvey
LA Times Syndicate

behind a handkerchief and "sneak a suck."

Many adult thumb-suckers say it helps them to fall asleep. One 30-year-old physical therapist says she looks forward to going to bed at night "where I know I am always going to have my thumb."

The practice can have negative implications. A lifetime of thumb-sucking can cause problems ranging from collapsed palates to tilted teeth and distortion of speech or difficulty swallowing. One woman, who hid her thumb-sucking behind a textbook in school, eventually developed a lisp.

After five years of wearing braces, four tooth extractions and thousands of dollars of speech therapy, she has now kicked the habit and is a college teacher in the Seattle area.

Thumb-sucking is a habit which gratifies about half of all small children. There is yet no consensus as to whether the heroic efforts by parents to stop the habit perpetuate it instead.

Another woman insists she did not suck her thumb as an infant or as a child, but that she began as a result of the "pressure of driving California freeways."

At 38, she is still struggling to shed the habit.

Still a third woman does not drink, does not smoke, does not even chew gum.

But this 41-year-old Bellevue, Wash., secretary says not a day goes by that she does not suck her thumb.

Displaying her callused thumb, she says, "This is my martini, this is my cigarette, this is my friend."

Letters policy

The Press-Record/Journal welcomes letters to the editor.

Letters can be run without the author's name. However, we request a name and telephone number accompany all letters to verify authenticity.

Letters are subject to editing for style, punctuation, grammar and length. Inflammatory statements that could lead to a libel suit against the author and/or the newspaper will be deleted.

Letters should be sent: To the editor, Press-Record/Journal, 1815 Delmar, Granite City, 62040.

State government wasteful, arrogant

To the editor:
Gov. Thompson has concealed a report of a quarter billion dollars of waste in his administration. It is just the tip of the iceberg, Stevenson said today.

Here is the truth about the Thompson administration from the Thompson administration. It is the draft report of the Governor's Cost Control Task Force.

The Governor's Task Force presented this report to him last February yet he has refused to release it to the public. He would prefer to have kept it secret until after the election or until he had made some long overdue changes.

This report is just the tip of the iceberg. The waste detailed here reflects only sloppy housekeeping, and not all of it. If the Department of Revenue instituted a program for the collection of its receivables, it might recover half a billion dollars, according to the Auditor General.

The report does not purport to include the high costs of a politicized Build Illinois program or the costs associated with systematic awards of state business to political favorites.

This report details $223 million annually in wasteful practices at state agencies under Thompson's supervision. The report illustrates that state government under Jim Thompson is wallowing in waste.

Findings in the report include:
• Illinois could save $3 million if state employees driving state vehicles would use self-service pumps at gas stations rather than paying for full service.

• $3.2 million could be saved if the state purchased telephones instead of continuing to lease phones from AT&T.
• More than $100 million could be saved over 10 years through energy conservation in state-owned buildings.

As revealing as these findings are, they do not tell the whole story. They do not include the self-indulgences of the governor — for example, the $500,000 computer system for his personal scheduling or the fleet of planes bought and maintained at a cost of many millions of dollars each year for his comfort and convenience.

How can the governor justify cutting $353 million out of the state budget for education, mental health, infant mortality, the homeless, day care and other vital services while sitting on this report?

This wasted money could be used to ease pressure on local taxes, which are now the highest in the Midwest.

The State of Illinois Center in Chicago is a monument to the inefficiency of this administration. It cost taxpayers an extra $100 million to build and now is costing millions of dollars more per year because it doesn't function properly. Even with electricity costs of about $2 million a year, its heating and cooling system doesn't work.

This self-proclaimed leader is reigning over a government that is out of control. The Thompson administration has been in power too long; it has grown fat and arrogant. It is time for a change.

No doubt the governor will tell you that I'm "wrong again" and I don't know what I'm talking about. This report was done by his own task force — and it documents the sorts of things I've been talking about. The governor cannot hide from the criticism of his own hand-picked panel, unless he wants to say that I don't know what I'm talking about.

This kind of waste isn't acceptable and it isn't necessary. When I was state treasurer, I cut costs and improved services.

As governor, I will attack waste in state government with the same determination so we will not be forever increasing taxes while we decrease support in critical areas such as schools and the mentally ill.

Chamber offers seminars

A recent study of the retail potential of the Tri-Cities market area showed that nearly $138 million of disposable income available for general merchandise, apparel, eating/drinking, autos and furniture was being spent outside the local market area. It is reasonable to estimate that 25 percent, or $34.5 million of this can be recaptured, according to the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

To help area merchants learn new skills in retailing or perhaps hone some time-proven ones, the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and Illinois Power Co. have teamed up with other allies interested in economic development.

They have put together a multi-week seminar to address basic elements to develop the retail community. It is intended to provide a forum for the exchange of basic and innovative approaches to customer services, professional selling, merchandising, promotion and advertising.

The first seminar, from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m., will be held Sept. 10 at the Granite City Campus of Belleville Area College, 4950 Maryville Road, Granite City, in Room 316.

The subjects will be "The Potential and Performance of the Tri-Cities Area Retail Community" by Michael Gennin of Illinois Power, and "Professional Selling and Customer Service" by Mary Garzoni, principal, Garzoni Group Consultants of Ellison Bay, Wis.

Schools prepare to pool insurance

By Donna Kimbro

MADISON — The Fire and Casualty Division of the Illinois Association of School Boards Insurance Pool is progressing and should be in operation by October, Superintendent of Schools John Palchiff told Madison Board of Education members Thursday night.

He said there are now 150 school districts involved in the newly-formed fire and casualty insurance pool.

SCHOOL INSURANCE policies are due in November, so if the IASB project is activated by October the Madison district should attain a lower premium rate, he said.

A pool for workmen's compensation insurance has been in effect for about six years, he said.

School enrollment figures tabulated Thursday for the 1986-87 year amounted to 1,348, a decrease of 56 students this year as compared to last year's total of 1,404.

Totals by school taken on Thursday are shown first in comparison to the Sept. 4, 1985, enrollment:

Madison High School, 416 (413); Middle School, 319 (330); Blair School, 190 (179); Louis Baer, 145 (191); and Harris School, 278 (201).

BOARD MEMBERS reappointed Dolores Folkerts, curriculum director, as representative to the Board of Control of the Madison County Vocational Education Intergovernmental Agency. The action was taken on a 5-0 vote, with James Newsome and Don Garrett absent.

Board approval also was given to the Madison Parents Club to meet at the Harris School cafeteria on the third Tuesday of each month at 7 p.m., and to Cub Scout Pack 21 to meet in the cafeteria on the first and fourth Thursday of each month.

Board members authorized Kenneth Perkins, Middle School principal, to attend the Illinois Principals meeting in Peoria this month.

Mary Beth Sipes, cafeteria director, announced a Madison County Food Service banquet and "bessing night" is planned for Sept. 25 in Bethalto. All school cooks will attend, but board members will not be present.

able to attend since the annual school district budget hearing and adoption are scheduled for that night.

Crop loan requests being streamlined

A new law is intended to remove red tape faced by farmers seeking crop loans.

It will allow them to provide information on the section, township and range of their farms, instead of the previously required legal description of their real estate when filing a financing statement. The legislation had wide support from farm groups and the banking community of Illinois.

Federal retirees resume meetings

The National Association of Retired Federal Employees will resume monthly meetings on Monday, Sept. 8, at 11:20 a.m. at Charlie's Restaurant, Daryl's, Few said.

He added the sessions are conducted on the second Monday of each month from September through June. For more information, those interested are to call 876-9450.

JANET BURNETT, home economist in the Madison County office of the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension, has been promoted from associate adviser to full adviser. She shares responsibility for U. of I. adult and continuing education programs in nutrition, health, consumer education, housing and interior design, textiles, family economics and family living. In her three years in the post, she has specialized in the area of family relationships and interpersonal skills. Previously, she taught high school home economics in Granite City. Burnett, her husband and two children reside in Edwardsville.

Vickie Jacobs

Joins Brown staff

D.W. Brown Realtors has announced Vickie Jacobs is a new member of the Granite City staff at 3700 Nameoki Road.

Jacobs trained through the Edwardsville office of D.W. Brown. She is married to Ed Jacobs, business manager of Bricklayers Local 62. The couple has three children, Katie, Laurie and Bill. The Jacobs attend St. Elizabeth Church.

She attended Granite City schools and BAC and has taken an active part in forming Alpha Center for Women. She was neighborhood chairman for Neighborhood 5 of the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council and is treasurer of Paddlers Inc.

Smith stockholders to hold special meet

A special meeting of A.O. Smith Corp. stockholders will be held on Oct. 9 in Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

Shareholders are being asked to approve a change in Smith's state of incorporation to Delaware through a merger with the company's wholly-owned Delaware subsidiary, AOSCO Inc. The company is now incorporated in New York. Its headquarters will remain in Milwaukee.

In a separate item, shareholders are being asked to approve a bylaw and form of agreement dealing with indemnification of directors and officers. The proposal responds to court decisions and lawsuits holding the outside directors of some companies personally liable for their decisions.

College for Independence to start 3rd year

The College for Independence, a non-profit educational experience for out-of-school special education adults, sponsored by the Parents for Special Education, will begin on Sept. 15 at 7 to 9 p.m. at Co-Ordinated Youth Services, Niedringhaus and Delmar Avenues.

All students enrolling will be taught home economics, typing, computer skills, reading, and math. Certified special education teachers Vivian Dine and Robert Gagliano coordinate the program and write individual goals for each student. The courses are non-credit and are specifically designed to improve and maintain independent living skills.

Tuition is $20, payable at the time of registration or in four monthly installments of $5 each. Transportation to and from classes will be offered. If it is needed, the persons to call are Carolyn Smoot, 931-2943, or Dorothy Lijewski, 876-0451, no later than Thursday, Sept. 11.

All instructors are volunteers holding certificates in special education or skilled in the specific area being taught. The college is in its third year, Smoot said.

Stevenson would stress training, jobs, research

Adlai Stevenson, calling for the revival of Illinois from "a decade of economic drift," said this week the state needs "a depoliticized government" with the "wisdom and vision to see what needs to be done and the integrity to do it."

Stevenson presented his approach to bringing Illinois back in an "Overview of Economic Development," containing three broad categories:

- "Coherent and efficient exercise of basic state functions," involving the infrastructure, tax and regulatory policies that keep business and farming costs low, community and small-business development, liaison with the federal government, and cost-effective state tourism and export promotion.

- "Development of the state's human resources," by improving education and job-training, and reforming welfare.
- "Agriculture, technology and research": Revitalizing rural Illinois, supporting farming, and using technological innovation as "the key to all economic growth."

Under the Stevenson administration, the state will be organized for the first time for effective economic development, export promotion, and tourism development," he said. Stevenson, candidate for governor in the Nov. 4 election, presented his economic overview in remarks prepared for an audience of persons from community organizations, and from the business and political communities, at Grace Place in Chicago's Dearborn Park neighborhood near the Loop.

Stevenson said his overview was "an approach to economic development that contrasts markedly with the short-term, politicized approach" of the current administration who is trying for a fourth term in office.

While the overview contains three broad headings, particulars "either have been, or will be, filled in as the campaign progresses," Stevenson said.

He pledged to work for a World Trade Center for Chicago to boost Illinois exports, saying the state has slumped from second to fifth in total exports since 1976.

"Illinois' economic stagnation does not reflect a lack of economic potential," Stevenson said. "It is the nation's crossroads."

But the state is "going nowhere," he said, because the Thompson administration has not focused on "the true requirements for economic competitiveness in today's world, the governor's preoccupation with flashy deals, and the wasteful use of taxpayers' money on scattered 'Build Illinois' projects."

"Under Thompson, Illinois has become the nation's biggest spender on economic development — with the least to show for it," Stevenson said.

"Education has been neglected, the infrastructure has deteriorated, utility costs have risen, and other signs of no leadership in the Land of Lincoln have appeared."

Calling the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs a $700-million-a-year agency for economic development that has produced no economic development, he said he would form a Council for Economic Development when he is governor, with himself as the chairman.

Special ed to be topic

A talk on special education in the Quad-City Area is scheduled here Sept. 16.

Students receiving instruction in any of the following classes are defined as receiving special education services:

Language development, educable mentally handicapped (EMH), trainable mentally handicapped (TMH), multiple handicapped, speech, resource, behavior disorders, learning disability, physically impaired, visually impaired, hearing impaired, early childhood, and adaptive physical education.

These services are coordinated in the Quad-Cities area by the Region I Special Education District, serving the Granite City, Madison and Venice school districts.

Director of the programs is Steve Balen, and his office is located in the Granite City School Board offices at 20th and Adams streets.

Balen will address parents at a meeting of the Parents for Special Education on Tuesday, Sept. 16, at 7 p.m. in the cafeteria of Coolidge Junior High School.

He will explain the programs for the 1986-87 school year and answer questions from parents. The meeting is open to the public.

The Parents for Special Education functions as a support group for students in the program and provides recreation for them, according to President Carolyn Smoot. Smoot may be reached at 931-2943 for more information.

A bowling league will begin for special education students, regardless of age, on Saturdays at Bowling Lanes, 5650 Nameoki Road. Bowling will start at 1 p.m. and end at approximately 3 p.m. Cost is $1.65 for three games, including bowling shoes and the use of a house ball if necessary. A ramp is available for wheelchair bowlers.

Parents interested in keeping score are invited. The league is described as unstructured. All bowlers are honored at the annual spring banquet, regardless of average.

Transportation will be provided through the Agency for Community Transportation from the Press-Record/Journal office parking lot, 1815 Delmar Ave., at 12:45. The van will return immediately after the bowling. Parents are responsible to pick up their children on time, the president said.

Monthly dances are held for students 14 years old and over on the second Friday of the month at the Harold Brown Recreation Center, Pontoon Road and Franklin Avenue, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Transportation is provided on a limited basis; if it is needed, Kay Hahne can be called at 451-9832 no later than the Wednesday before the dance. The first dance will be on Sept. 12.

BAC turns 40: A story of community service

1946. The St. Louis Cardinals beat the Boston Red Sox in the World Series. Truman was in his second year in the White House. America was recovering from its "last" war. Many Americans had returned to their jobs while others decided to further their education. It also was the first year of the "baby-boom" generation.

As those first "baby-boomers" are turning 40, so is a local product of the post-World War II generation: Belleville Area College.

Established in 1946 as Belleville Junior College, BAC has grown from an enrollment of 169 students as an extension of Belleville Township High School District 201 to a state-supported three-campus community college with more than 12,000 full- and part-time students. BAC also operates extension centers in 16 communities.

Forty-eight graduates participated in the college's first commencement exercises June 6, 1948. That compares to more than 3,000 students who graduated in June 1986.

When the college opened its doors in September 1946, many students were World War II veterans wanting to attend college close to home.

BAC's first students ranged in age from 17 to 42, with the majority in the 18-to-21 bracket. There were 133 men and 16 women. Many students were married. One mother and son enrolled in classes together. By the second year, student enrollment climbed to 250.

Three full-time teachers — an English instructor, commerce instructor and librarian — made up the first faculty. Five additional teachers were added during that first year as enrollment exceeded expectations.

Course offerings initially were pre-professional, liberal arts and advanced commerce. As the college grew, night courses, both credit and non-credit, were added to the curriculum. Math and science programs were expanded and fine arts programs were begun.

Nursing was added in 1958 as a three-year program operated through cooperation with local hospitals. The first class graduated 20 students in June 1961.

The original campus was on West Main Street, adjacent to Belleville Township High School West. Two U.S. Army barracks purchased for $62,300 in 1947 were used as drafting and chemistry laboratories.

When Belleville Township High School East opened in 1965 on Carlyle Road and West Boulevard, the junior college also made the move.

After the Illinois General Assembly passed the Illinois Junior College Act of 1965, establishing community college districts throughout the state, area citizens voted to establish a Class I junior college.

That college, serving O'Fallon, Marissa, Mascoutah, Lebanon, Freeburg and New Athens in addition to Belleville, began operations July 1, 1967.

By 1966, college enrollment topped 3,000 and the new quarters were cramped. The current 150-acre main campus site at the intersection of Greenmount and Carlyle roads at the east edge of Belleville was purchased for $435,000 and the first phase of the existing building opened in the fall of 1971.

Since then, two additions have been constructed, with the third unit, including a gymnasium, locker rooms, and welding, drafting and health program laboratories, completed in 1980.

The first elected community college board chose to retain the name Belleville to honor the two-year institution that pioneered community education in Southern Illinois. In 1969, the name was changed to Belleville Area College.

In 1974, additional high school districts joined the college district, expanding its boundaries to include all of St. Clair County except East St. Louis, all of Randolph and Monroe counties and parts of Madison, Washington, Bond and Perry counties.

Recent census figures show there are more than 375,000 residents of the BAC district.

High school areas served by the college include Belleville, Cahokia, Chester, Collinsville, Columbia, Coulterville, Duplo, Freeburg, Granite City, Highland, Lebanon, Madison, Marissa, Mascoutah, New Athens, O'Fallon, Red Bud, Sparta, Steelville, Triad, Valmeyer, Venice, Waterloo and part of Okawville.

The college dedicated its Granite City Campus during the fall of 1983 and approximately 2,000 students enrolled. Red Bud Campus opened in January 1985.

Opening GOC to serve residents in the northern portion of the college district and Red Bud Campus to serve those in the southern portion is an approach in keeping with the community college's history — growing and expanding its services to meet the needs of taxpayers and students.

Both new campuses received approval for full campus status from the Illinois Community College Board in July 1985. BAC purchased the Granite City Campus building from Granite City School District 9 in June 1985.

Today, BAC offers more than 80 university transfer and career education programs.

Associate of arts, associate of science and associate of applied science degrees, and certificates of proficiency and completion are awarded.

Also, many non-credit, self-improvement general studies and community services are offered.

To perform

Pianist Morton Estrin will perform at 8 p.m. Friday, Oct. 10, at Edison Theater in the Mallinckrodt Center at Washington University, St. Louis. His performance will precede a master class scheduled for 2 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 11, in Room 103, Blevett A Hall on the campus.

Davis

James M. Davis, 101, formerly of Kirkpatrick Homes, a resident of Granite City since 1935, died at 10:25 a.m. Sunday, Sept. 7, 1986, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

He was hospitalized for one day, and had been residing at the Edwardsville Care Center East.

Mr. Davis was born in Cave in Rock, Ill., and had also lived in Tennessee. His last place of employment was at National Enameling and Stamping Co., Granite City, where he worked for many years in the shipping department.

A member of the Briarcliff Pentecostal Church, Mr. Davis was a former member of the Granite City Art Guild and a former member of Teamsters Local 525 of Alton.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Flora Davis, in 1955 and a son, Hugh Adams, in 1963.

Survivors include two sons, William M. Davis, Granite City, and James Adams, Bloomington, Ind.; one daughter, Mrs. Roy (Margaret) Wilmszig, Granite City; a half brother, Frank Davis, St. Louis; 11 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Francis Gabriel and the Rev. Thomas Smith officiated at 11:30 a.m. services Tuesday, Sept. 9, at Irwin Chapel for Funerals, 2801 Madison Ave. Burial was at Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville. Memorials are requested for Briarcliff Pentecostal Church.

Hillis

The Rev. Thelma Wilkins Hillis, 74, of Poplar Bluff, Mo., formerly of Granite City, died at her home at 2 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 7, 1986, after a one-month illness.

Born in Wolf Lake, Ill., she lived in Missouri for 16 years and previously resided in Granite City.

Rev. Hillis was an evangelist with the Assemblies of God denomination and spoke in area churches for many years. She was a member of the First Assembly of God Church in Poplar Bluff.

She and her husband, John Hillis, who survives, were married Sept. 3, 1952, in Granite City.

Other survivors include one daughter, Kathy Nabert of Poplar Bluff; a brother, Charles Wilkins, Granite City; and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m. today (Wednesday, Sept. 10) at Mercer Mortuary, 1416 Niedringhaus Ave., to be followed by 1 p.m. graveside services at Walker Cemetery, Grand Tower, Ill.

Houston

Ronnie Scott Houston, 18, of 4932 Redwood Lane, Mitchell, died of injuries sustained in an automobile accident Saturday at 11:45 p.m.

He was driving north in the 4700 block of Nameoki Road when his car struck a tree.

Ed Morton, Madison County deputy coroner, pronounced him dead at the scene at 12:22 a.m. Sunday, Sept. 7, 1986.

A lifelong resident of Granite City, Mr. Houston graduated from Granite City High School this year. He was employed as a farm laborer.

Mr. Houston was a member of Johnson Road General Baptist Church.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie E. (Jane) Houston, Mitchell; two brothers at home, Robert and Joshua Houston; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James (Ruby) Morgan, Brussels, Ill., and Mrs. Johnnie Houston, Ledbetter, Ky., and a great-grandfather, William Houston, also of Ledbetter.

The Rev. Cecil Cook officiated at 10 a.m. services Tuesday, Sept. 9, at Davis Funeral Home Chapel, 21st Street and Cleveland Boulevard. Burial was at St. John Cemetery, 2901 Nameoki Road.

Knackstedt

Leroy Knackstedt, 59, of Collinsville, formerly of Granite City, died at 4:33 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 7, 1986, at Oliver Anderson Hospital, Maryville.

He was a retired switchman for the Alton and Southern Railroad. Mr. Knackstedt was a member of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1309, Granite City.

Survivors include two daughters, Cathy Knackstedt, Edwardsville, and Mrs. Allan (Debbie) Jenks, Collinsville; his mother, Mrs. Linda (Salter) Knackstedt, Granite City; one brother, Alvin Knackstedt, Ozarks, Mo.; a sister, Mrs. Vi Lockhart, Granite City; and one granddaughter.

Visitation will begin at 5:30 p.m. today (Wednesday, Sept. 10) at Herbert A. Kassly Funeral Home, 515 Vandavia St., Collinsville, where Father John Burnett will officiate at 1 p.m. services Thursday, Sept. 11. Burial will be at Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville.

Reedy

Joshua Reedy infant son of Lisa Ellen Reedy, 1902 Sken St., Madison, was stillborn at 1:35 p.m. Friday, Sept. 5, 1986, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 9, at St. John Cemetery, 2901 Nameoki Road. Mercer Mortuary, 1416 Niedringhaus Ave., was in charge of arrangements.

SERVICES for Audelle "Harry" Breckner, 57, of 533 English Place, Mitchell, were conducted by Father Henry Schmidt at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 9, 1986, at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church. Burial was at Calvary Cemetery, Edwardsville. Mr. Breckner died at 10:08 p.m. Friday, Sept. 5, 1986. Arrangements were by Irwin Chapel for Funerals, 2801 Madison Ave.

first major street improvement project in many years was made after a walking tour of city streets was taken by Mayor Tyrone Echols in May.

The mayor was accompanied on the inspection survey by 3rd Ward Alderman John Ervin, chairman of the council's Streets and Alleys Committee, and Juneau.

Echols referred to some deteriorating curbing, noted in specific areas, as "unbelievable" in his report to the council members.

At that time, an estimated price tag of $176,000 was projected for the citywide improvement program.

A $4 million rebuilding project for the Broadway overpass also is scheduled by the Illinois Department of Transportation.

MCKINLEY BRIDGE Manager Tom Fields said the Union Electric easement request involves installation of a transmission power line across the width of the bridge, north to south, at the St. Louis end of the span.

In other action, the council accepted a resignation from the police department by Patrolman Algie Crawford III.

Crawford, 28, joined the Venice force on June 12, 1985. He has accepted a position as deputy sheriff with the Madison County Sheriff's Department, Crawford said.

KC Auxiliary plans autumn fashion show

The Knights of Columbus Ladies Auxiliary will sponsor a charity Style Show and Soup and Salad luncheon.

Cholesterol screenings planned

The Lipid Research Clinic at Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis will conduct cholesterol screenings as part of an 11-center study that may have an impact on reducing heart disease, the nation's number one killer.

The screenings are scheduled for Sept. 15 and 16 from noon to 4 p.m. They will be held in the Health Education and Screening Center on the ground floor lobby of Barnes Hospital, a sponsoring institution of the Washington University Medical Center.

The study is the first ever to evaluate large-scale screenings of blood cholesterol levels. Researchers with the program expect to develop guidelines for a nationwide cholesterol screening program, said

Thomas Cole, Ph.D., director of the Core Laboratory of the Lipid Research Center. The proposed cholesterol screening program would be similar in magnitude to blood pressure and diabetes screening programs developed in the last decade, Cole says.

The Lipid Research Center will test cholesterol levels using the Reflotron whole blood chemistry analyzer. The device, roughly the size of a portable typewriter, determines cholesterol levels in less than three minutes at a cost of $1 per test.

"The Reflotron is uniquely suited to measure cholesterol levels in large numbers of people," Cole said. "In addition to being fast and inexpensive, it is accurate, easy to use, and requires only a small sample of blood taken from the finger, not from the vein."

Before technology was developed for the Reflotron and similar devices, Cole said, blood cholesterol levels were more difficult and expensive to determine; blood had to be drawn from the vein, and was sent to a laboratory for analysis at a cost of as much as $20.

Knowing cholesterol levels is important, Cole said. He said a large-scale cholesterol screening program could save lives by identifying people at high risk for heart attacks and encouraging them to modify their behavior.

Further information on the screenings is available by calling the Lipid Research Clinic during afternoons only, at 362-3500.

Glik, SEMC mammography screening continues

More than 200 area women are still eligible to take advantage of a low-cost, low-dose mammography screening, offered by St. Elizabeth Medical Center, Granite City, through the generosity of the Glik family.

One-hundred-sixty residents already have participated in the screening, which began Aug. 1. The $95 mammography procedure, which makes possible early detection of breast tumors, is now available for $25.

The additional savings are made possible through the Gussie Glik Cancer Fund, formed to honor the late Gussie Glik on her 55th birthday last April. The wife of Joseph Glik, who is president of the Glik apparel stores, she died from inoperable cancer in June.

The fund, started at her request, has raised more than $13,000 to be used by medical center in this breast cancer detection program. The screenings will be offered at the $25 rate until the funds are exhausted. About 400 screenings are expected to be done.

Any woman wishing to have the procedure must have a physician's order before calling for an appointment, to insure that she will receive the appropriate follow-up care. Payment will be required at the time of service.

SEMC offered the procedure to the public at a reduced rate of $55 in June.

Of the more than 350 women tested in two earlier screenings, 20 showed positive findings, which required medical follow-up.

One out of every 11 women is affected by breast cancer, and 100,000 will discover that they have the disease this year alone.

Early treatment can reduce the mortality rate from breast cancer by 30 to 40 percent, and yet only about 10 percent of all women regularly get mammograms.

The American Cancer Society suggests that women have an initial mammogram between ages 35 and 40, followed by a mammogram every year or two until age 50, and then annual breast X-rays.

St. Elizabeth's state-of-the-art mammography system provides high-quality, high-sensitivity images with minimal radiation exposure. The relatively painless procedure, which takes 15 minutes, is done in a private setting by female technologists. Special instructions concerning preparation for testing will be given when an appointment is made.

To make an appointment, the SEMC Radiology Department can be called at 798-3181.

Thompson, Hartigan act to upgrade mental services

Nearly 500 agencies will provide additional community-based services to mentally disabled persons throughout Illinois.

Gov. James Thompson said budget restoration has made possible because of oil-overcharge funds that will come into the state in the future to finance home weatherization projects. He said this will free funds which can be transferred to the general revenue fund to support the budget revision action he took Sept. 3.

Though these funds were not available at the time the governor acted on the budget in July, his office, the Bureau of the Budget and Attorney General Neil F. Hartigan—whose office obtained the funds through litigation—have now jointly developed the funding plan.

Thompson will seek legislative support in the fall session to restore $5.6 million which had been vetoed from the fiscal 1987 budget.

"These agencies have served an increasing number of the State's mentally disabled persons. I have supported that direction and expect the trend to continue. Another $2.8 million, in addition to the $5.6 million, will ensure a 4 percent increase in cost of living, effective Jan. 1, 1987," he said.

"Within the next week, I will appoint a bi-partisan task force to study the future of mental health services in Illinois. It will evaluate the structure of the Department of Mental Health and make recommendations on service delivery. I will also ask it to form subcommittees to study the research institutes, community care and institutional care."

Pain in back to be studied

The Program in Physical Therapy at Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis has been awarded a federal contract to develop a standardized system for evaluating job-related low back injuries.

The contract is with the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH) and includes more than $102,000 in funding during the next year. The Washington U. study will try to provide better methods for relating the symptoms and signs presented by workers with low back injuries to the specific tasks they perform on their jobs, said Steven J. Rose, Ph.D., associate professor and director of the Program in Physical Therapy.

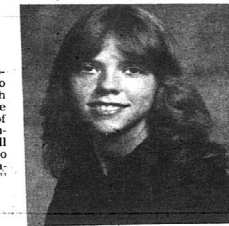

The first phase of the contract involves studying the reliability of currently available low back injury evaluations, said Rose, who is also co-director of the Department of Physical Therapy at the Irene Walter Johnson Rehabilitation Institute. During the study, individual test items will be examined for consistency and usefulness.

Rose and his researchers hope to develop a standard evaluation based on signs and symptoms exhibited by patients with low back injuries. The program will involve testing muscle use, balance and posture, and when necessary, prescribing conservative treatments that involve no drugs or surgery.

Arthur Shulman, Ph.D., associate professor of psychology, is serving as design and statistical consultant for the project.

Rose also has been awarded a research grant from the Eastern Missouri Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation. The grant totals more than $25,000 and will be used to study and measure function disabilities in low back pain patients.

Christine Boyd

Accepted at school

Christine Boyd, daughter of Joe and Lois Boyd, 3020 Nameoki Drive, has been accepted to the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine in Urbana.

One out of every three or four qualified applicants is accepted by the college each year. This year's freshman veterinary class will consist of 80 persons.

Boyd graduated from Granite City High School South in 1981. She then attended Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, where she accepted an NCAA Division I full scholarship for volleyball. Boyd majored in zoology with a minor in chemistry.

Drug use cited as main school worry

WASHINGTON, D.C.—For the first time in more than a decade, the American people do not rate school discipline as the top problem confronting public schools. The new number one concern is drugs, according to the annual Gallup poll on education sponsored by Phi Delta Kappan magazine.

Drug use by students is one of the major non-academic social problems facing schools that the National Education Association will be working hard to combat during the 1986-87 school year.

Other findings of the new Gallup poll:

- By a 65-27 percent margin, the public opposes giving tax money to help private schools.
- By a 67-24 margin, people say they would allow their child to attend classes with a student who was suffering from acquired immune deficiency syndrome.

Fitness equipment

Fitness To Go will be at booths 1128-1129, 1210-1211 at the five-day Home, Remodeling and Energy Show, opening today, Sept. 10, at the convention center. Universal Home Fitness Equipment will be featured with: powerpaks, treadmill, aerobicycle, rowing machine and stationary bike. Special offers will be available.

'Vacu-form' process renovates bathtubs

Better Bathtubs and Tile (BBT), backed by one of the largest porcelain and fiberglass resurfacing companies, will present its 'Vacu-Form' process at the Builders Home Show.

Tom and Nancy Gordon are partners in this family-owned and operated organization.

This process, with a patent pending, enables the Gordons to completely mold a panel of high-density high-impact resistant acrylic over an existing tub. This exclusive "on site" molding process is unique and is now being offered to the public. Four years and more than $250,000 in research and development has brought this form of bathtub replacement to the metropolitan area, Tom Gordon said.

The current method of replacement is by using a factory pre-molded liner over the surface. But this has gaps and voids where moisture can collect, he said.

"By molding over the existing tub, you can get a perfect seal and fit," he said. "Every tub is made different than the next and the only way to ensure a quality fit with a liner is to 'Vacu-Form' it."

With a network of dealerships being formed, this process soon will be available throughout the country.

"Vacu-Forming can custom-form a new bathtub in a matter of a few hours and save you over 80 percent of the old method replacement cost," Gordon said.

Along with the Vacu-Form process, BBT offers a complete line of colors used to resurface everything from bathtubs, ceramic tile, kitchen sinks and laminated surfaces to just about any fixture in the bathtub or kitchen, even today's fiberglass tubs and showers.

BBT can even change the color to match the decor of the bathroom or kitchen. The finish is acid- and stain-resistant and can be washed with commercially recommended porcelain cleansers.

Save energy

Beckwood Industries Inc., manufacturer of energy-efficient fireplaces, fireplace inserts, freestanding woodstoves, glass fireplaces and fireplace surrounds, will be exhibiting its products at booths 929-939 at the home show.

Included will be the M-1000 fireplace, which is available for new home construction to replace the traditional masonry or zero-clearance fireplace. This fireplace has the ability to heat an entire home while providing the charm of a regular fireplace.

Also featured will be the KK-111 freestanding stove, which is capable of heating up to 2,500 square feet because of its revolutionary combustion chamber system. The system enables the stove to burn cleanly and without the aid of a catalyst with extended burn times.

Piece of Silver Dollar City comes to Convention Center

The Builders' Home, Remodeling and Energy Show offers the opportunity to "visit" Silver Dollar City without ever leaving town.

Featured this year will be a Silver Dollar City exhibit titled "Gateway to Yesterday." This show-within-a-show will occupy 62 of the approximately 400 home show booths—all of them filled with handmade, one-of-a-kind home decorating items made by the artisans of Branson's Silver Dollar City. Many of the items will be for sale.

The exhibit showcases the work of special guests from this Ozark area's celebrated colony of crafts-folk. Among the highlights will be Diana and Harvey Kinard's display of folk art, Ron Hirsch's collection of copper fountains, a showcase of laces and linens by Maxine Adams and demonstrations by Jim Bass and Mark Edwards, log hewers and cabin builders.

Ozark Wide Reservation Service will be present, distributing two-for-one admissions to Silver Dollar City's September craft festival days. Registration for other giveaways, including two nights lodging and tickets to Silver Dollar City, Shepherd of the Hills and music shows, will be held at various booths.

ATTENTION CORN GROWERS MARKETING BULLETIN

SEPTEMBER 10, 1986

The use of government PIK certificates offers the potential for $2.00 - $2.40 bu, before deficiency payments, ($3.11-$3.55 after deficiency payments) for the 1986 corn crop for any producers who have participated in 1986 government program.

It will also offer corn growers the opportunity to empty all of their bins without carrying the corn for an extended period of time.

PIK Certificates can be purchased thru Agro Systems on a Deferred Basis w/nothing down & Pay when Receiving Gov. Loan Revenue

Agro is currently working with corn growers to purchase these PIK certificates and we are also assisting in the subsequent grain sales.

We feel that this is a unique opportunity for all of our clients to take advantage of. UNFORTUNATELY, this also appears to be a very short-lived opportunity as grain prices continue to fall daily. We urge corn growers to give this careful consideration immediately and to contact Larry Broadway for information on how to take advantage of this opportunity.

Woodshed shows furnishings with charm

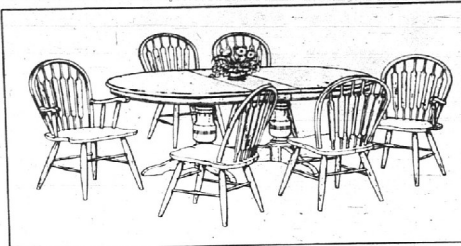

The Woodshed features solid wood home furnishings with the nostalgia of yesteryear. Its American-made furniture is accented by a complete line of lamps, accessories and crafts to create a total decorative look.

At the Builders Home Show, Woodshed will display tables and chairs that carry a 10-year warranty at special show savings. An attendance prize drawing also will be held at its exhibit at booths 1015-1016.

Of the furniture exhibited, the Country Classic table and chairs set will be featured. The chairs are crafted from solid northern red oak, with arrowback designed spindles and strong steam bent oak bow.

The double-pedestal table features an oval top in solid oak. The top offers two self-storing aproned leaves, with a third leaf optional.

During the home show, the

The Country Classic chair is crafted from solid northern red oak.

Woodshed will offer this set at special prices. With the purchase of the table and three chairs, the fourth chair is free.

New trees enhance landscape with colors, improved forms

The gardener can choose from native trees or some of the newer cultivars derived from native or introduced species.

A cultivar is normally propagated from cuttings taken from a plant that has shown some improvement over the parent plant, such as a change in color of foliage during the growing season or added color in the fall.

Sometimes the new plant will be seedless or very compact in growth. It may be more tolerant of disease or insects or it may be a heavier producer of fruit. The improved form may possess several of these qualities.

Cercis canadensis 'Forest Pansy' is an attractive redbud that is hardy to minus 30 F. It grows to 25 feet and has purple new foliage maturing to a maroon color for the growing season.

Cercis canadensis 'Oklahoma' is another cultivar of the eastern redbud, hardy to minus 30 F. with dense, shiny, rich-green foliage. Plants flower abundantly at an early age.

Picea abies 'Pendula' is a Norway spruce, hardy to minus 50 F. with a curious weeping form ideal to use for a semi-oriental effect. This has an upright leader and is a good grower. Branches hang close to the main stem, sometimes trailing on the ground.

Garden Spot

Robert J. Dingwall

The hard maples noted for their autumn color make excellent specimens in the landscape. Acer rubrum 'Red Sunset,' A.R. 'Autumn Glory' and A.R. 'Select' produce beautiful fall color—a deep red—once they become established.

Acer rubrum 'V.J. Drake,' Drake's red maple, is a new cultivar from Monrovia. This is a large deciduous tree growing to 75 feet and appears to be more wide-spreading than straight species. This has unique autumn foliage.

The first change in the normal color of green is an irregular purple pattern. Leaves then develop red margins with green centers. Later, the center of the leaves turn yellow while the red margins remain.

The Bradford pear Pyrus calleryana 'Bradford' is familiar in many areas with its white blossoms early in the spring and shades of deep purple in the fall.

Two new cultivars are now available: P.G. 'Capital,' called Capital Ornamental Pear, and the Pyrus calleryana 'White House.'

Capital is a columnar form with a strong leader and short ascending lateral branches. Flowers appear before foliage and autumn color is red-purple. The fruit is sparse and the tree is highly resistant to fire blight. Capital Pear makes excellent specimen plants and windbreaks.

White House features abundant spring flowering and bright red autumn color. It is resistant to fire blight. This tree is a narrow pyramidal form, growing to 36 feet in height, but only 18 feet in width.

Fraxinus americana 'Autumn Purple' ash is another tall-growing tree with unusual color for the ash family. This makes an excellent shade tree when a tall tree is needed.

Sources of these trees can be obtained from a local garden center or nursery. Some specimens will be available this fall, while others should be available for planting next spring.

Show offers chance to view three manufactured homes

Manufactured housing, one of the most affordable types of housing available today—and one practical opportunity for individuals to move from renting to owning their own homes—will be on display at the Builders Home, Remodeling and Energy Show.

The Manufactured Housing area will occupy one corner of the Cervantes Convention Center. Featured will be three different all-electric home styles with unique interiors.

Almost a third of all new single-family homes sold in America last year were manufactured homes. Manufactured homes used to be called mobile homes, but because they are permanent residences 85 percent are never moved—they are no longer called that.

The homes offer all the style and amenities in demand for comfortable living. Exteriors are designed for easy care and are available in all styles of exterior looks.

Interiors can be modest or filled with luxurious extras, such as vaulted ceilings, elegant bedrooms, whirlpool and central vacuuming systems.

The list of features goes on and on—and the Builders Home Show offers an ideal opportunity to see a wide range of possibilities.

Home show visitors to judge handcrafted furniture contest

Booths 733-734 and 805-806 at the Builders Home, Remodeling and Energy Show will showcase the Second Annual Handcrafted Furniture Show and Competition sponsored by West County Hardwoods and St. Louis HBA.

This exhibit will feature reproduction furniture, contemporary furniture, carvings and sculptures from many of the area's finest craftsmen. Their entries include chairs, bookshelves, tables, desks, musical instruments, jewelry boxes and clocks.

Winners will be "people's choice." Visitors will vote for one entry they believe represents the finest craftsmanship and design. Competitors are vying for prizes of $1,000 for the show's best, $300 for second place and $200 for third place.

Voting ends at noon Sunday. Winners will be announced by 4 p.m.

Storm windows hold benefits

Storm windows—in any season—can save you a blizzard of money on heating and cooling bills.

Combination storm windows can be an investment that soon pays for itself. Immediate benefits include: reduced use of fuel energy; lowering year-round maintenance costs; and, added value to the home.

Storm windows and the existing windows create an air space between the panes of glass. Air is a good insulator.

Storm windows used in conjunction with metal primers will greatly reduce heat and cold transmission—how much depends on individual factors in the home.

The combination of self-storing storm windows are also an answer for in-between seasons. A moveable sash allows homeowners to adjust the glass panels to take advantage of natural ventilation. The sash and screen inserts are stored within the window main frame.

Combination—storm windows made of aluminum are the most popular type. The low maintenance, long-lasting durable beauty of aluminum makes it an easy choice. It doesn't blister, peel, rot or rust. The wide range of styles and finishes can accentuate a home's appearance.

The American Architectural Manufacturers Association says that many people, when buying this type of storm windows, look for the association's label as a guarantee of quality.

Feathered friends: Instead of bread, let them eat cake

An easy, nice thing to do during the fall is to stir up homemade feeding cakes for the birds. Then, during winter when your feathered friends are cold and hungry, you will have a supply of food on hand.

A simple feeding cake recipe that attracts every type of bird is outlined in Ortho's book 12 Months Harvest. The recipe is as follows: Melt ½ cup sugar, ½ cup peanut butter, ½ cup flour, ½ cup corn meal, ½ cup oatmeal and enough bird seed to hold it all together. Mold in a pan or a flower pot. When hard, take out of container.

In winter, hang it outside for the birds to enjoy.

Dieting not fun and games, says Diet Center founder

The founder of the Diet Center, Sybil Ferguson, says dieting is no fun-and-games routine. However, the criteria in selecting from the high number of diets marketed should be whether it can be maintained for a lifetime.

"Take a look at a diet and ask if this is something that you can live on for the rest of your life. Can it be a pattern for life? If you are not a martyr, you won't feel persecuted. Most people who are slender watch their weight," she says.

She found herself at age 29 with four babies — plus 50 pounds more weight than she wanted.

"I was constantly on one starvation (ad) diet after another. I needed surgery and had to lose weight, but I was in a total state of malnutrition," she says.

She ended up going to a local college and devising an eating program for herself based on the U.S. system of Recommended Dietary Allowances. After losing weight herself, she began helping friends and word-of-mouth put her into the dieting business.

She now requires counselors in the 2,000 Diet Centers nationwide to have lost weight themselves. Dieters who lose a lot of weight are required to have blood tests from their own doctor every 40 pounds.

Ferguson says people today are more aware of foods, but are not educated in proportion with their interest.

She has gathered recipes and some of the program's ideas into the Diet Center Cookbook (Simon and Schuster, $17.95).

Techniques for staying as thin as possible take her through a variety of everyday situations.

She calls salad bars "the American fat-trap." She cites how some have preservatives in lettuce, sugar sweetening the carrots, fat-laden salad dressings, and relishes and vegetables mixed together that shouldn't be on the salad of a person trying to stay on a diet.

"It is necessary to become educated enough to make the right choices. Lots of people don't know there is any protein in fruits," she says.

She recommends a five-to-seven vegetable salad every day, using a guideline that the darker the vegetable, the more nutritious it will be.

Big apples are a ballast for her as well, providing fiber for "staying" power. Ferguson, however, wastes her time on a little apple, so her choice gives her a feeling of satisfaction.

She uses this technique to stay in control when she eats out as well. A dinner date of 8 p.m. will let her set up a snack an hour before that with a big glass of water and an apple.

"I know then that I can pick and choose, I feel great," says the svelte grandmother of 17, who looks like she could weigh more but doesn't.

Offering a selection also is her approach toward entertaining. She says more people should respect the feelings of those who diet.

"Obesity is an illness, a constantly re-occurring disease. If you are a diabetic, a hostess will honor that. But to the person who is dieting, she will say, 'My goodness, you're not going to diet here, are you?'"

She attests to offering a variety of foods in her home, particularly when entertaining. In her mountain home, breakfast may include baked trout, scrambled eggs and bran muffins. By selecting the part of the breakfast that keeps her in control of her weight, nobody notices her "dieting."

She offers yogurt and tofu dips, fruit platters, as well as sugary food parties. People select the lower-calorie foods five-to-one over sweeter items, she says.

The outer perimeter of a supermarket where fresh fruits and vegetables, breads and whole-

By Janice Denham

grain items and other fresh items are stocked, is where people should shop.

"Anything that is crunchy takes longer to chew, keeps the blood sugar stable and stays with you longer," says Ferguson.

Buying fresh fruits and vegetables, then letting them wilt in the refrigerator is not an answer to a family's eating dilemma either.

As soon as they come home, it is best to clean them and have them ready in the crisper for use.

Cooking nutritious is not a chore. When selecting vegetables at a meal, she recommends fresh as the best, then suggests steamed, frozen and finally canned.

One of the ways she teaches people to steam vegetables is to crinkle aluminum foil in the bottom of a pan. Add vegetables of choice and just a half inch of water. Bring this to a boil. Steam about five minutes. Some vegetables, like zucchini, have enough moisture to not need the additional water.

It is good to train children on proper eating habits. "Often a mother works and feels a little guilty about not cooking big meals, so she puts out the cake. Kids develop a taste for this and this is what they want," she says. Ferguson has arranged her book according to seasons. One of the best parts about summer, she says, is that regular exercise is easier to come by. For a picnic she recommends Cucumber Salad.

To make it, thinly slice 3 unpeeled medium cucumbers. In a separate bowl combine 1 cup cider vinegar, 1 teaspoon Diet Center Lite sweetener or ½ teaspoon other artificial sweetener, salt and pepper to taste, and 3 tablespoons chopped fresh dill. Pour the dressing over the cucumbers and mix. Refrigerate until serving time. Makes 2 servings; 66 calories, 0 fat, 0 cholesterol, 2.1 gr. fiber and 26 mg. sodium each.

Skip cleaning and chopping; use salad bar ingredients

It used to be that salad bars were only available in restaurants. Then they spread to fast-food chains. Now supermarkets prominently and proudly display them as salad bars continue to grow in popularity. Freshness and convenience make them appealing to people in many different walks of life.

"Salad bars seem to be especially appealing to two-parent working families, singles and the health-conscious. Those stores with salad bars in areas surrounding businesses appeal to employees looking for a light lunch," says Sally Bruns, director of consumer information for National Super Markets.

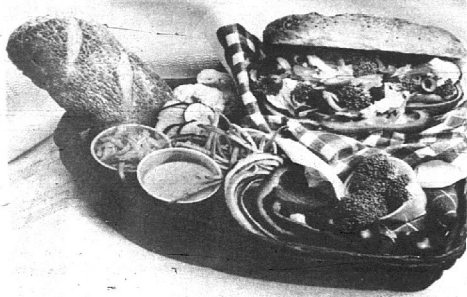

Salad bars have expanded not only to a traditional lettuce salad, but to prepared salads such as pasta, layered, taco and fruit salads. Nachos with cheese and soups often are available. Pudding, as well as other prepared desserts, can be found at most in-store salad bars.

The calorie-conscious customer has an opportunity to limit the amount of the prepared desserts in favor of fresh fruits.

The price of a salad is determined by its weight. Price per pound ranges from $1.79 to $2.89.

Vege delight

2 French rolls, split lengthwise
1 tbsp. butter, softened
Dash garlic powder
1 green pepper, sliced
1 small red onion, thinly sliced

SHOP FOR DINNER or lunch at the salad bar of a local supermarket, but use the ingredients to make a plump sandwich, hearty vegetable soup or flavorful stir-fry.

Separated into rings:
2 radishes, thinly sliced
1/2 cup sliced cauliflower
1/2 cup sliced broccoli flowers
1/2 cup grated carrot (1 small carrot)
1/2 cup dill pickle slices
2 oz. grated cheddar cheese
1/2 cup thousand island dressing
Sliced olives, if desired

Combine butter and garlic powder, mixing well. Spread butter mixture on top half of each roll, leaving half-inch shell.

Layer green pepper, onion, radishes, cauliflower, tomatoes, broccoli, carrot, pickles and cheese in that order on rolls. Spoon 2 tablespoons dressing over each sandwich. Top with remaining roll halves.
Use olives as garnish on top of rolls or on top of fresh ingredients. Makes 2 servings.

Sweet-sour

1 1/2 lb. mixed salad bar vegetables, such as broccoli, cauliflower, mushrooms, onions and carrots
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup oil
2 tbsp. vinegar
1 tsp. celery seed
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. paprika
Dash garlic powder

Combine vegetables in shallow dish.

Combine sugar, oil, vinegar, celery seed, salt, paprika and garlic powder in jar. Cover tightly and shake vigorously.

Four marinade over vegetables. Cover vegetables. Chill at least 3 hours.

Makes 6 servings.

Vege stir-fry

1/2 cup chicken broth

2 tbsp. soy sauce
2 tbsp. dry white wine
2 tbsp. cornstarch
3 tbsp. oil
1 garlic clove, peeled
2 whole chicken breasts, skinned, boned and cut into 1 inch pieces
1 lb. mixed salad bar vegetables

Combine chicken broth, soy sauce, wine and cornstarch. Set aside.

Preheat wok or electric skillet over medium-high heat. Add 1 tablespoon oil. Stir-fry garlic clove 1 minute. Remove.

Add chicken pieces. Stir-fry 2 to 3 minutes or until lightly browned. Remove chicken from wok. Set aside.

Pour 2 tablespoons oil into wok. Add salad bar vegetables. Stir-fry 4 minutes or until vegetables are crisp-tender.

Return chicken to wok. Pour chicken broth mixture over chicken and vegetables, stirring well. Reduce heat to low (225°). Simmer 2 to 3 minutes or until thickened.

Serve over rice.

Makes 4 servings.

Fast, easy soup

2 (10 1/2 oz.) cans beef bouillon
1/2 cup tomato sauce
1 lb. mixed salad bar vegetables, such as green peppers, broccoli, cauliflower, carrots, celery, onions and snow peas
1 clove garlic, crushed
1 tsp. pepper
1/2 tsp. paprika
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup small pasta, uncooked

Dilute bouillon according to label directions. Stir in tomato sauce. Bring to boil.

Stir in vegetables, garlic, pepper, paprika and salt. Bring to boil. Cover and simmer 1 hour.

Return to boil. Add pasta. Simmer 10 to 15 minutes or until pasta is tender.

Makes 6 cups.

Sizzlin' steak

Mexican Marinade
Cumin Sauce
1 lb. flank steak
2 tbsp. oil
1 cup onion wedges
1 cup green pepper strips
1 cup toasted whole almonds
1 tomato, cut into wedges
1 cup ripe olives
1 cup cilantro sprigs
Combread or hot cooked rice or tortillas

Prepare Mexican Marinade and Cumin Sauce. Set aside. Thinly slice flank steak diagonally across the grain. Toss meat with Mexican Marinade. Let stand 30 minutes.

Heat oil in large skillet. Quickly stir-fry meat and remove from skillet.

Saute onions and green pepper. Add meat to pan with Cumin Sauce. Bring to boil. Cook until thickened. Stir in almonds, tomato, olives and cilantro.

Serve over split and buttered cornbread or hot cooked rice or with corn or flour tortillas. Garnish with lime wedge, if desired.

Makes 6 servings.
Mexican Marinade: Combine 2 tablespoons oil, 2 tablespoons dry sherry, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1 tablespoon chili powder, 1 clove garlic, minced, and 1 teaspoon sugar. Mix well.

Cumin Sauce: Combine 1/2 cup water, 1/2 cup fresh lime juice, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1 teaspoon oregano and 1 teaspoon ground cumin. Mix well.

heat. Broil 15 to 20 minutes, depending on doneness desired (rare or medium), turning and brushing with marinade occasionally. Season with salt.
Makes 4 servings.

Taco salad

1 lb. ground pork
1 pkg. (1 1/2 oz.) taco seasoning mix
Taco chips
1 medium head lettuce, shredded

2 medium tomatoes, diced
1 large onion, finely chopped
1 thinly sliced avocado, if desired
8 oz. shredded cheddar cheese
Bottled taco sauce

In 9-inch skillet, brown ground

pork over moderate heat. Drain. Add taco seasoning mix. Cook according to package directions. To serve, place taco chips on each serving plate. Top with pork mixture, then with lettuce, tomato, onion, avocado and cheese.

Serve taco sauce over salad. Serving suggestion: Place each item in individual bowl and let each person make own taco salad to taste. Taco shells may be substituted for taco chips.
Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Baked peppers

1 tsp. olive or salad oil
2 tbsp. finely chopped onion
1 small tomato, peeled, seeded and chopped
1 anchovy fillet, rinsed and chopped
1 tbsp. capers
1 tsp. currants
2 tsp. walnuts
1 can (3 1/2 oz.) tuna in water, drained
Salt
Pepper
1 small red pepper, top cut off and seeded
1 small green pepper, top cut off and seeded

In small skillet, heat oil—Cook onion until tender.

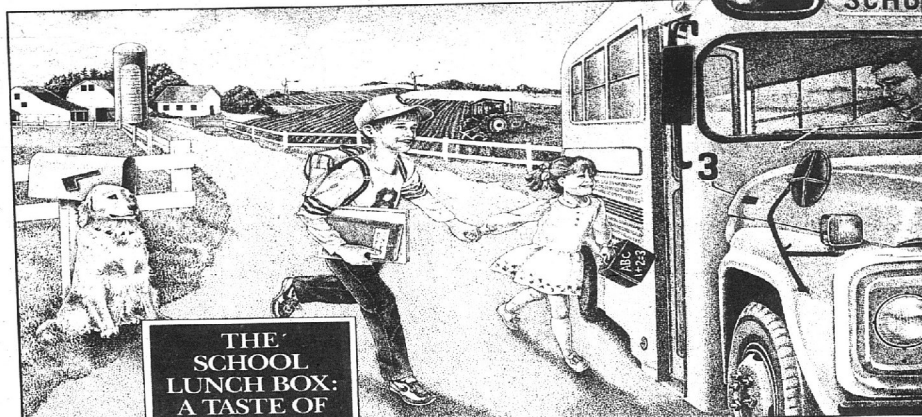

Add tomato. Stir over moderate heat 8 to 10 minutes, until most of liquid has evaporated.

Stir in anchovy, capers, currants and nuts. Add tuna. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

Spoon tuna mixture into peppers. Place peppers in small, lightly oiled baking dish. Bake, uncovered, in 350° oven 35 minutes, or until peppers are tender.

Chill slightly. Serve at room temperature.

Yields 1 serving, 260 calories.

1 1/2 lb. beef sirloin steak or tip, cut into 1 1/2 inch cubes
1/2 cup oil
1/2 cup red wine vinegar
2 tsp. sugar
1 tsp. salt
1/8 tsp. cracked black pepper
1 clove garlic, minced
1 small zucchini, cut crosswise into 1 inch pieces
2 red peppers, each cut into 12 pieces

Combine oil, vinegar, sugar, oregano, pepper and garlic in small saucepan. Cook slowly 10 minutes. Cool.

Place beef cubes and marinade in plastic bag or utility dish, turning to coat meat. Marinate in refrigerator 6 to 8 hours or overnight.

Pour off and reserve marinade. Cut crosswise slits, 1/2-inch apart, halfway through each piece of zucchini.

Alternately thread beef cubes, red pepper and zucchini pieces on 4 skewers. Brush vegetables with marinade.

Tomato, bacon and rice

Fresh tomatoes, green peppers add summer highlights to rice

Although Tomato and Bacon Rice is a vegetable dish, it could serve as a main dish for a lunch or simple supper. This time-saving recipe is simple to prepare. Results are satisfying and delicious.

Regular-milled white, brown or parboiled rice can be used for this colorful dish. Simply adjust for these substitutions by varying the length of cooking time. Both brown and parboiled rice require slightly longer cooking times for tender-cooked rice.

Brown rice is the whole unpolished grain of rice, with only the outer hull and small amount of bran removed. It has a nut-like flavor and a slightly chewy texture.

Parboiled rice has been processed using a special steam pressure method. This treatment aids

Bacon n'cheese
4 frozen croissants
4 slices Canadian bacon, grilled
6 eggs, scrambled
4 slices cheddar or American cheese
8 fresh orange wedges

Cut or separate frozen croissant halves. Heat cut-side down on ungreased baking sheet in preheated 325° oven 3 to 4 minutes.

For each serving, place bacon slices on each croissant bottom half. Top with 1/2 scrambled eggs, then 1 cheese slice. Top with remaining croissant half.

Garnish with orange wedges, if desired.
Makes 4 servings.

Peach jam

4½ cups prepared peaches
2 tsp. ascorbic acid crystals or fruit freshener
4 tbsp. lemon juice
2 cups sugar
1 pkg. (1 3/4 oz.) light fruit pectin
1 cup corn syrup

Prepare the peaches by washing, peeling, slicing and crushing them one layer at a time. Measure into large bowl. Stir in lemon juice with ascorbic acid.

Measure sugar.
Combine pectin with 1/4 cup of sugar and gradually add to fruit, stirring vigorously. Set aside 30 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Add corn syrup. Mix well. Gradually stir in remaining sugar until dissolved.
Tangle quickly into scalded containers. Cover at once with tight lids.

Let stand at room temperature overnight, then store in freezer.
Yields about 6 cups.

Chop Fruits For Jam; Do Not Puree

For best results, always finely chop fruits and vegetables used for making jams. However, do not puree. Pureed produce will add too much liquid and fruit for a good gel.

Squeeze juice from fresh fruit for making jellies. Frozen concentrate makes a fine substitute also.

the retention of much of the natural mineral and vitamin content. Precooked rice, the fourth form of American-grown rice, requires a minimum of preparation time. It is ideal for quick meals and speedy desserts. Packaged directions for precooked rice should be followed closely.

In fact, Rice Council dietitians recommend following package directions for cooking, regardless of which form of rice being used.

Tomatoes, bacon

6 slices bacon, diced
1 cup chopped onions
1 cup chopped green peppers
1 cup uncooked rice
2 cups beef broth
2 tsp. seasoned pepper
2 fresh tomatoes, cut in eighths

In 10-inch skillet, cook bacon

Onion omelet

2 medium onions, sliced to make 2 cups rings
5 tbsp. butter or margarine
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
1/2 tsp. basil
Salt and pepper
6 eggs
2 tbsp. water
Tomato slices
Parsley sprigs

Melt 1/2 cup butter in skillet. Add onion rings. Sauté over low heat until tender, but not browned. Stir in sour cream, basil, salt and pepper to taste. Keep warm.

Beat eggs with water and 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Heat 10 to 12-inch skillet. Add 1 tablespoon butter, tilting pan to coat sides and bottom. When bubbling, add egg mixture.

Cook until set on bottom, lifting sides to allow uncooked portion to run underneath.

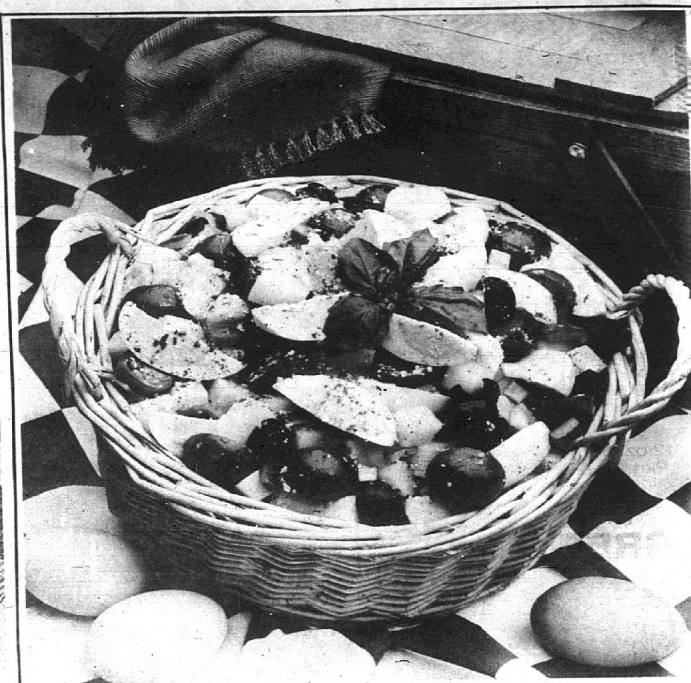

Spoon onions onto center of omelet. Fold one side over onions. Slide omelet onto plate, flipping to make another fold.

Garnish with tomato slices and parsley sprigs.
Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Pizza salad a delight

Best of 2 worlds in pizza salad

It is not easy to bring pizza to a summer picnic, so the flavor of Pizza Potato Salad may be the next best thing.

Familiar pizza ingredients such as tomatoes, green peppers, olives, onions and parmesan cheese—combined with garlic, basil and oregano in an oil and vinegar dressing—give the common potato an Italian accent. Hard-cooked eggs add protein to this deli-style salad.

It is easy to take advantage of summer's abundance of succulent fruits and savory vegetables by serving satisfying salads made of nature's fresh, natural ingredients. Another way to add protein with eggs is to sprinkle chopped hard-cooked eggs over a favorite edible greenery. Two wedged hard-cooked eggs per serving can add enough protein to a potato, rice or pasta salad to make it suitable as a cooling main dish.

If the local pizza parlor will not deliver to the park, farm or lake, bring Pizza Potato Salad along. Pack its container in an ice or coolant-filled basket or cooler to keep it at its best throughout the day.

Pizza salad

2 cups diced, peeled, cooked red potatoes
10 cherry tomatoes, halved
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
12 pitted ripe olives, drained and halved
1/2 cup chopped red onion
1/2 cup oil
2 tbsp. grated parmesan cheese
2 tbsp. red wine vinegar
1 tsp. garlic salt
1/2 tsp. basil leaves, crushed
1/2 tsp. oregano leaves, crushed

8 hard-cooked eggs, wedged
Fresh basil leaves, if desired

Place potatoes, tomatoes, green pepper, olives and onion in large bowl.

Place oil, cheese, vinegar, garlic salt, basil and oregano in small jar with tight fitting cap or blender container. Cover and shake or blend until well combined.

Pour over vegetables. Toss until vegetables are evenly coated with dressing.

Reserving 6 egg wedges for garnish, add remaining eggs to vegetable mixture. Toss gently until well combined. Cover and chill to blend flavors.

Garnish with reserved egg wedges and basil leaves, if desired.
Makes 4 main-dish or 8 side servings.

FRIDAY 8 A.M.-8 P.M. • SATURDAY 8 A.M.-7 P.M.

Skewered salmon

- 1 1/2 lb. thick salmon steaks or fillet, thawed if necessary
- 1 medium cucumber, peeled, halved lengthwise and seeded
- 2 tsp. oil
- 2 tsp. finely chopped green onion
- 2 tsp. toasted sesame seed
- Grated peel of 1 lemon
- Juice of 1/2 lemon
- 4 tsp. reduced-sodium soy sauce
- 2 tsp. sugar
- 1/2 tsp. ginger
- 1 medium clove garlic, minced
- Lemon half-citrus wheel slices
- Parsley

Remove bone and skin from salmon. Cut into 1-inch cubes.

Cut cucumber into 3/4-inch slices.

In medium bowl, combine oil, onion, sesame seed, lemon peel and juice, soy sauce, sugar, ginger and garlic. Add salmon and cucumber, stirring gently to coat well. Marinate 1 hour, stirring occasionally.

Alternate salmon and cucumber on skewers. Barbecue or broil on lightly greased grill 5 inches from heat 1 1/2 to 2 minutes on each of 4 sides, brushing frequently with marinade.

Total cooking time should be 6 to 8 minutes or until salmon flakes easily when tested with fork.

Garnish with lemon slices and parsley.

Makes 4 servings.

Cod Siciliano

- 1 lb. frozen cod filets (do not thaw)
- Margarine or oil
- 1 lb. linguini
- 4 tsp. olive oil
- 1 large sweet onion, thinly sliced
- 2 bell peppers, red and green, cut in julienne strips
- 2 medium zucchini, thinly sliced
- 4 large tomatoes, cut in wedges
- 1/2 cup (or more) fresh basil, chopped
- 1/2 tsp. red pepper flakes, if desired
- Grated parmesan cheese, if desired

Brush fish lightly with margarine. Bake at 450° in non-stick or lightly greased shallow pan in center of oven 20 minutes. For fresh cod or scrod filets, lay fillet flat and measure at thickest part. Bake at 450° for 10 minutes per inch of thickness.

Cook linguini according to package instructions. Drain and toss with two tablespoons olive oil.

Saute onions, peppers and zucchini in remaining oil until crisp-tender.

Add tomatoes, basil and red pepper, if desired. Toss and heat quickly.

Arrange hot linguini on heated platter, top with vegetables and cod, broken into bite-size chunks. Toss together. Serve immediately with grated parmesan.

Makes 4 servings.

Dipping sauce

Combine 1 1/2 cups (15 ounce can) pizza sauce, 1/2 cup horseradish sauce and 2 teaspoons lemon juice. Chill several hours.

Serve with chicken nuggets, meatballs, shrimp or cocktail franks.

Makes about 2 cups.

Almond torte

- 10 inch angel food cake (20 oz.)
- 1 pkg. (3 1/2 oz.) vanilla instant pudding
- 2 cups cold milk
- 1/2 pint heavy whipping cream
- 1/2 cup butterscotch topping
- 1/2 cup sliced almonds, toasted

Tear angel food cake into small pieces. Arrange in 13-by-9 inch pan.

Prepare instant pudding according to package directions using the cold milk.

Whip heavy cream until stiff. Fold into pudding.

Spoon whipped cream mixture onto cake pieces. Drizzle butterscotch topping on cake between spoonfuls. Spread evenly. Sprinkle with almonds.

Refrigerate at least 2 hours. Makes 12 to 15 servings.

Spirals salad

- 1 pkg. (10 oz.) multi-colored spiral pasta
- 2 cups chopped fresh vegetables (See Note)
- 1/2 cup Italian salad dressing

2 oz. parmesan cheese

Salt and pepper to taste

Cook pasta according to package directions. Rinse with cold water to cool. Drain.

Gently but thoroughly mix vegetables, Italian dressing, parmesan cheese and pasta together. Salt and pepper to taste.

Chill several hours or overnight. Yields 10 (1/2-cup) servings.

Note: Use as many fresh vegetables as necessary for flavor and eye appeal: Zucchini, yellow squash, broccoli, green pepper, carrot, celery, etc.

8C GRANITE CITY JOURNAL—September 10, 1986

AHA survey reviews restaurants

More than 900 restaurants in the metropolitan area have been surveyed by the American Heart Association to obtain information for area residents who frequently dine out.

Owners and managers were asked to respond to questions most asked by diners—especially those questions concerning special diets and the restaurants' willingness to accommodate the patrons' needs.

Responses from the survey are in a brochure entitled "Dining Out in St. Louis," which is free.

Those interested in obtaining a copy can make their requests by sending a self-addressed business letter-sized envelope to: "Dining Out Guide," 4643 Lindell Blvd. St. Louis, 63108.

Fall '86 Home Show: New Attractions Mingle With Latest House-Improvement Ideas

The 1986 Home, Remodeling and Energy Show opens Wednesday, Sept. 10, and runs through Sunday, Sept. 14, at Cervantes Convention Center. This two-half event is sponsored by the Home Builders Association.

With more than 400 booths on display, the convention center halls will be brimming with products and services related to the home.

"Every year the show contains new and unusual features, along with the very latest ideas in home remodeling, furnishing and energy-proofing. If you're considering making home improvements before the weather turns or the holidays sneak up, this year's show is the place for you," said Gary Zide, home show manager.

A major new feature this year is the Silver Dollar City "show within a show." Many handmade, one-of-a-kind home decorating items will be on display and for sale in the 62 booths featuring artisans from the Silver Dollar City Craft Guild.

"The HBA show will include a real cross-section of our most talented people," said Dave Pruett, manager of the traveling unit from Branson. Artisans will participate in everything from log hewing to copper fountains to quilts to hand-carved mantelpieces, creating items of interest for everyone in this "Gateway To Yesterday."

Room additions are becoming increasingly popular these days and more imaginative in design and execution. A Gallery of Room additions, constructed on-site by Heritage Homes, will feature three completely landscaped and furnished rooms. A family room, a screened-in porch and a contemporary office will be displayed as room additions, constructed as Andersen Concept IV sunspaces, to demonstrate the variety of designs possible using Andersen windows.

Manufactured housing, one of the most affordable types of housing available today - and one practical opportunity for individuals to move from renting to owning their own homes - will be on display.

The Manufactured Housing area will feature three all-electric homes containing many amenities for luxurious, comfortable living. The efficiency of building in a controlled factory setting allows for many extra features to be included at affordable prices.

The Handcrafted Furniture Show and Competition, held for the first time at last year's show, is back by popular demand and should be bigger and better than ever. The competition, sponsored by West County Hardwoods, will include 20 expert woodworkers and cabinet makers from the St. Louis area.

Visitors will be able to vote for their favorite item of furniture and also consider the craftsman for that special project at home. For the do-it-yourselfers, wood-working tools - both power and hand - will be demonstrated throughout the show.

With the pool on display at the Wideman Pools booth, show visitors will see how a dome can make swimming a year-round activity at home.

"How to" demonstrations are always popular with show visitors. This year's show will feature a series of 20-minute presentations by the University of Missouri Extension and other exhibitors throughout the show. Topics include how to plan for a new kitchen or bath, how to select the right windows and doors, 20 questions to ask before starting a room addition and how to plan a room addition.

It wouldn't be a fall show without displays of the latest in wood-burning fireplaces and fireplace inserts and surrounds. In addition, every major brand of energy-saving heating and air-conditioning system available in the metropolitan marketplace will be there for visitors to compare. Factory representatives will be on hand to answer questions.

Fans, spas, log homes, spiral stairs, home furnishings, kitchens and baths, home fitness equipment, pianos and organs, windows and doors all will be found at the '86 Home, Remodeling and Energy Show.

Show hours are as follows: 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 10;

Noon to 10 p.m. Thursday through Saturday;

Noon to 6 p.m. Sunday. Regular admission is $3.50 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12. Special discounts are available.

On Wednesday, "Industry Night," half-price admission sponsored by the Home Builders Association is available through coupons located in the home show newspaper advertisements.

Thursday is "Schucks Day" at the show; coupons offering for half-price admission on this day are available at all area Schnucks stores.

On Friday, the Suburban Journals are sponsoring an Early Bird Special, featuring half-price admission with Early Bird coupons available in today's Journal.

From noon to 5 p.m. Thursday and Friday only, senior citizens are offered free admission.

'Gateway To Yesterday'

Piece Of Silver Dollar City Comes To Builders Show.

The Builders Home Show offers the opportunity to "visit" Silver Dollar City without ever leaving town.

Featured this year will be a Silver Dollar City exhibit entitled "Gateway To Yesterday." This show-within-a-show will occupy 62 of the approximately 400 home show booths - all of them filled with handmade, one-of-a-kind home decorating items made by the artisans of Branson's Silver Dollar City. Many of the items will be for sale.

The exhibit showcases the work of special guests from this Ozark area's celebrated colony of crafts-folk. Highlighted artists will include Diana and Harvey Kinnard's display of folk art, Ron Hirsch's collection of copper fountains, a showcase of laces and linens by Maxine Adams and demonstrations by Jim Bues and Mark Edwards, famous log hewers and cabin builders.

Ozark Wide Reservation Service will be present, distributing two-for-one admissions to Silver Dollar City's September craft festival days. Set up at various booths will be registration for other giveaways, including two nights' lodging and tickets to Silver Dollar City, Shepherd of the Hills and music shows.

Harvey and Diana Kinnard, along with other artisans from the Silver Dollar City Craft Guild, will be featured at the Home Builders Show. The Kinnards are helping to bring about a revival of America's earliest decorative paintings.

Sports

Flyers still rolling, 55-0

Notes and anecdotes from week one of the high school football season.

A TALE TWO STREAKS: East St. Louis rolled to its 41st consecutive win by demolishing Siskiyaw of St. Louis 55-0. Collinsville ended its 26-game winless streak with a 14-0 win over Wood River. It was Collinsville's first triumph on the gridiron since the 1982 season.

TOP RUSHER: Madison's Angelo Cross, who sliced through the Vandavia defense for 280 yards, earned top rushing honors on the East Side.

TO STEAL A PIGSKIN: Jamie Hogan's five interceptions against Cahokia in the Metro East over the weekend. Hogan, who has eight pickoffs in two games against Cahokia, tallied just four interceptions all last year.

PARITY? It was a tough weekend for Illinois schools who made the playoffs last year. East St. Louis Assumption was dumped by Waterloo 18-13. Edwardsville shocked Roxana 14-9...and Belleville West was stopped by Hazelwood Central 26-0. Of the winners of those games, only Hazelwood Central, the defending Missouri 5A state champs, had a winning record in 1985.

DEBUTS: New coach scorecard: 3-3...Bernard King's team was a winner as East St. Louis Lincoln smashed Beaumont 36-3...Jerry Gorman's Waterloo squad was also a winner...At Mater Dei, Dennis Littleken and his Knights beat cross-town rival Central 6-0. Meanwhile, for Cahokia's Robert Eden and John Zeral of Mascoutah, their debuts were not impressive. Eden's Comanches lost to Granite City 27-6 and Mascoutah was blasted by Jacksonville 35-0. Collis James at Alton will have to wait for his first win. A teachers strike forced the Redbirds to forfeit their season opener to Belleville Althoff.

TIEMAN TIGERS: At Duplo, the name Tieman is well-known. At Friday's game, the Carlyle football team received a rude introduction. The brothers combined for 41 for their team's 47 points. Sophomore Derek scored on runs of 63, 43 and 38 yards. Scott, a senior quarterback, had touchdowns runs of 13 and 32 yards. Scott also tossed a 29-yard TD strike.

BEST LINE: Collinsville athletic director Frank Pitol after the school's win over Wood River: "I think this should be worth half of a haircut." The reference was to Kahok coach Bob Hollingshead's promise to his players if they go 2-0 he would let them shave his head.

TO THE POINT: Roxana coach Charlie Raich after his team's loss to Edwardsville: "They played us right off the field. They ripped us off the field. That was no fluke."

WORST MANNERS: Omanche coach Eden wouldn't even shake hands with Warrior coach Ron Yates after his team's 27-6 loss. Then, after the game, Eden proceeded to rip the officials.

Stars win two

MATT CASSERLY, controlling the ball during practice, had a goal in last Friday's Granite City Campus win over Kishwaukee. The Stars beat Kishwaukee 4-1 and followed with a 3-1 win at Sauk Valley to go 2-0 on the year. Larry Petr's team plays Lewis and Clark Community College in Godfrey today at 3 p.m. For details on last week's wins, see Page 4D.

Warriors still unscored upon; beat Marquette

By Dave Whaley

Staff writer
GRANITE CITY — Unbeaten, untied and unscored upon.

That used to be the saying reserved for the great college football teams of yesteryear. But now, at least after two games, it can still be said about the Warrior soccer team. Granite City took advantage of a size and depth advantage to wear down Alton Marquette 3-0 Monday evening at the Gauntlet to run their record to 2-0.

The Warriors had opened the season Saturday with a 4-0 whitewash of Southwestern Conference rival Belleville East on the road.

"It's hard to say how good we are right now," said Warrior coach Gene Baker. "I don't really know how good our opposition has been. We're playing well on defense, but we need more talk at midfield to move the ball better."

Still, the Warriors have had enough talk to pump nine goals in the net in the first two games.

Monday's game was extremely physical, with 80 fouls called. The Explorers were whistled for 43, while Granite City received 37. And Marquette's Kurt Wuellner was given two yellow cards for rough play.

"One of their guys didn't make a clean play all night," Baker said. "But the officials have to call everything, and I think they did a good job. The fouls were 39-22 at one point, so it got closer to evening out at the end."

The Warriors' decisive victory over the team that knocked them out of the playoffs last year was something they had been looking forward to for a long time, said Explorer coach Mike Velloff.

ALTON MARQUETTE SCORING

GRANITE CITY	0	0	0	0-0
GC - Troy Adamitis (Shot) 18:00	1	0	0	1-0
GC - Todd Adamitis (Assist) 44:00	2	0	0	2-0
GC - Brock (Koruch) 45:57	3	0	0	3-0
GC - Duke (Jenny) 48:55
GC - Cooper 75:25

"I think they waited for this one," Velloff said of the Warriors. "They thought about this little school up north that knocked them out of the regionals for the first time in about 10 years. They just wore us down."

The Warriors dominated the entire game, outshooting Marquette 21-4. Still, after Brett Bjorkman and John Van Buskirk missed on good shots early in the game, Marquette had the best chance when a loose ball came across the goal crease. But Kirk Mills and goalie Matt Krekovich managed to clear it away at the last moment.

The Warriors got on the board in the last minute of the first quarter, when Jason Smith passed across the front of the goal to Troy Adamitis. Marquette goalkeeper Lance Buzzell had the shot lined up, but Keith Parker deflected it away at the last moment.

Granite City kept the ball in Marquette's half the entire second half, although Krekovich was called on to stop a high, hard shot by Mike Keenan. The Warriors stepped up the pressure when Todd Adamitis, who had two goals in Saturday's game, headed one off the post early in the third quarter. But he came back two minutes later and got his third goal of the year on a beautiful volley of a Billy Aleksandrian corner kick.

Warrior spikers fall to Edwardsville

By Liz Stark
Correspondent

GRANITE CITY — Even with the "new" gym and new coach, the Warriors volleyball team didn't have much luck as they lost their first home game to Edwardsville Monday night, 15-2 and 15-7. In the first match, the Warriors didn't look all that promising. Amy Nelson was the first server for the Tigers, and she racked up five points as the Warriors fell behind early.

Coach Don Deterding called for the first of two time outs, but this time, little talk from the coach didn't help against the strong Edwardsville team.

Tammy LeVault helped the Warriors get one of their two points by making the Tigers look like kittens with a powerful first serve. The Warriors were fired up after this, but the flames were quickly extinguished as the second serve hit the net.

Granite City's second point came off a spike by Sandy Sternberg.

The second match had a bright beginning for the Warriors, as Granite City had a three-point lead at one time. The lead, however, was short-lived, as they lost 15-7. Lisa Mills started things off for the Warriors with two points for her team. The Warriors were finally showing their colors at this time, but the colors soon faded. After leading 7-4, things went downhill. Even with two replays that were to the Warriors' advantage, Granite City still seemed to have its problems.

"The biggest problem here tonight was that they weren't thinking," Deterding said. "We have the physical abilities, but not the mental. The team didn't play well and they showed it tonight."

With this loss and the one at East St. Louis Friday night (4-15, 15-9 and 10-15), Granite City is 0-2 on the year.

The Warriors will be at home against Collinsville at Granite City tonight at 6 p.m., then are off until next Tuesday, when they travel to Cahokia for a 6 p.m. match.

Netters stop Eagles; begin SWC schedule

The Granite City girls tennis team scored a win over Bethalto Monday, 7-1 in a non-conference match.

Granite City swept all of the singles matches. Keri Weckman was a 6-0, 6-0 winner. Jaymie Siebert won her match 7-5, 7-5. At No. 3 singles, Julie Gabriel took her match 6-3, 6-0. Meghan Lombardi took her match 6-3, 6-0.

In doubles competition, Yanka Brylack and Kerin Dippel won 2-6, 6-4, 6-4. Kristie Williams and Ida Manniger dropped their match 6-4, 4-6, 5-7. At third doubles, Becky Tritschuh and Mary Smith were 6-0, 6-1 winners.

In an extra match played, Missy Coile was a 6-1, 6-2 winner.

The Warriors were to begin their Southwestern Conference schedule Tuesday at home against Belleville West. They will host Collinsville on Thursday.

Warriors finish fourth at Granite Invitational

By Gregg Ochoa
Executive Sports Editor

It will come as no surprise that the Granite City girls cross country team will be placed under a microscope this year.

Skeptics will wonder if the Warriors can be as successful after graduation stripped them of some good talent.

Last Saturday, the Warriors proved there is life after Lora Wiser and placed fourth in the Granite City Invitational. Granite City had four runners finish in the top 30 and scored 145 points.

East St. Louis Lincoln, which graduated most of its pack, still made an impressive showing. Lincoln easily outdistanced Triad with 20 points. A perfect score in cross country is 15. Lincoln runners placed 1-3-7-9.

Triad scored 36 points and Mt. Vernon 145. Rounding out the other team scores were: O'Fallon (148), Belleville West (167), Springfield (178), Belleville East (187), Highland (196), Mascoutah (251) and Collinsville (296).

Despite the fourth place showing, Warrior coach Dave McClain said the meet served as a good test.

"Four in the top 30, I'm pleased with that," McClain said. "If we can get that fifth pulled up and bunch everybody, which is the way you are supposed to run, we should be all right."

"Still, I was proud with the way they ran."

Senior Sheila Noel paced the Granite City attack. She finished 17th overall and covered the course in 14:45.

"I missed getting a medal — again," said Noel. Medals were awarded to the top 15 finishers.

"It seems like that always happens to me at this meet. It's frustrating," she said.

Noel, who finished 25th overall last year, said she was pleased with her time.

"It was the best I have run the course this year," she said.

"Marianne (Finn) was right there pushing me the whole way, which was good."

Finn finished 18th, just behind Noel. Melody Witt placed 26th (15:07), and Kim Ames was 28th (15:09).

However, what hurt the Warriors was that the next closest runner (Maria Moslander) came in at 66th.

"Maria's capable of running a lot better than that," McClain said.

Daria Portell finished 67th (16:33) and Terri Selph, running in her first cross country meet, was 70th. Her time was 17:04.

"This was a tough test for the first meet of the year," McClain said. "There was a lot of good competition from all over."

The Warriors proved something. They can compete with the rest of the area's teams, and while graduation took its toll, the cupboard is not bare.

Noel, a former track star at Prather Junior High School, has been a member of the team since her freshman year. She knows the Warriors have a tough task ahead if they want to equal last year's success.

"Granted, we lost a lot of good runners, but we can't worry about that," Noel said. "They are off at college and we are still here. We feel this team can be good. It's just going to take a lot of work on our part."

Noel, Finn, Witt and Ames all ran last year and played an important role in the team's qualifying for the IHSA state meet for the third straight year.

"That's our goal again," Noel said.

In the boys' run, Springfield Lanphier, which finished 15th at the state meet a year ago, won its division. Lanphier's top three runners placed fourth, seventh and 11th.

The win overshadowed the performance of Everett Whiteside of Mt. Vernon. Whiteside, a junior, ran the course in 15:17, a new meet record. The old mark of 15:21 was set last year by Alton's Norman Bilsbury.

Lanphier scored 56 points. Mt. Vernon was second with 81. Lincoln, led by Cecil Shy, was third with 102 points.

Other scores were: Springfield (118), Hazelwood Central (140), Belleville West (172), Jacksonville (183), Lebanon (192), O'Fallon (232), Triad (257), McCluer North (283), Belleville East (308), Mascoutah (320), East St. Louis (326) and Granite City (342).

Jake Varadian was the top finisher for the Warriors. He placed 49th (17:34). Other Granite times: Steve Terzowski (58th, 17:58), Tom Miller (77th, 18:37), Paul Brandt (82nd, 18:59), Jeff Myer (83rd, 19:00), Bill Puhse (84th, 19:01) and Larry Tankley (90th, 19:19).

In the freshman-sophomore division, Mike Patterson was the Warriors' highest finisher. He earned a medal with a 12th place. His time was 17:51. Other times: A. Williams (20:02), J. Birkhead (21:13), R. Franklin (21:51) and T. Moslander (22:37).

Stars open with two victories

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

Larry Petri's concern over the Granite City Campus soccer team's ability to score goals proved to be unfounded over the weekend.

The Stars got the 1986 season off to a good start with a pair of wins on the road. They defeated Kishwaukee 4-1 on Friday, then came back with a 3-1 triumph Saturday afternoon at Sauk Valley.

"I wasn't really happy with Friday's game," Petri said. "But we played much better on Saturday. Kishwaukee wasn't a real strong team, and maybe my expectations were a little higher. The score was 4-1, but it could have been higher."

Rob Fafoglia had a pair of goals in Friday's game, with Matt Casserty and David Lauer adding single tallies to back up Chris Sonders' performance in goal.

On Saturday, Todd Jones, George Lauria and Craig Coffelt found the back of the net, while Sonders and the defense again held Sauk Valley to a single goal.

"I was worried we weren't capable of scoring," Petri said. "But we had a lot of chances in both games, and could have had more goals than we did."

"I brought Lauer off the bench, and I thought he was the most consistent of any of our players. And Lauria really improved against Sauk Valley. We brought him from fullback up to center midfield. He wasn't real strong in the first game, and I don't know if he got frustrated or what, but he really got going Saturday and played great."

The Stars take their 2-0 mark to Godfrey this afternoon for a 3 p.m.

meeting with Lewis and Clark Community College, their old nemesis.

"I don't know if they have the same goals we do, but we're looking forward to that one," Petri said.
